A Gathering Place in Nature

BRUSHWOOD CENTER AT RYERSON WOODS

BRUSHWOODCENTER.ORG
Brushwood Center at Ryerson Woods is the perfect place for an intimate celebration in nature. Nestled deep in the 565 acres of the tranquil wooded sanctuary of the Edward L. Ryerson Conservation Area in Riverwoods, Illinois, we are only 25 miles from downtown Chicago but feel worlds away from the busyness of life. Experience the warmth and charm of the historic Ryerson estate with the benefits offered through the surrounding nature. The beauty, peace, and quiet of a pristine oak woodland is an idyllic backdrop to your special day.

Sustainability:

As an environmental non-profit, sustainability is one of Brushwood Center’s top priorities. We do all we can to reduce impact from our events and programming, and are perfectly suited to help you plan an eco-friendly event in nature.

Our Sustainability Practices

- We ensure that our preferred vendors compost all food scraps and recycle all containers
- We do not allow single-use plastics in any catering, decor, and floral arrangements
- We utilize non-toxic, eco-friendly cleaning supplies
- We compost waste from our programs and operations onsite
- Our environmental education programs for youth and families throughout Lake County foster a care for the environment in the next generation

Highlights of our Historic Site

- The Ryerson Family built Brushwood Center in 1942 largely using reclaimed materials, including our gorgeous hardwood floors and stunning brick exterior
- We run a creative-reuse center out of the house, and to date have diverted over 5,000 pounds of art supplies from the landfill and provided supplies for non-profits, artists, educators and art therapists across the Chicago-land area.
- Our beautiful backyard garden features native, pollinator-friendly plants and is tended without any chemical pesticides or herbicides
- Ryerson Woods is the traditional home and hunting grounds of the Potawatomi people. We acknowledge this site as indigenous land and the Potawatomi people as it’s original caretakers, and work to honor their legacy through our environmental programming
